Mum: I'm going to see Mrs Hammad, our neighbour, now. She isn't well and we must look after her. Do you want to come with me?

Kareem: Yes, please. It's important to help older people when they're unwell.

Samira: That's right. I'm coming, too.

2.

Samira: Has the doctor given you some medicine, Mrs Hammad?

Mrs Hammad: Yes, she has. I've taken the medicine. I have some tablets, too.

Mum: That's good.

3.

Samira: Has Mrs Hammad had lunch?

Mum: No, she hasn't. I've cooked her some food.

Kareem: I can put it on a plate for her.

4.

Kareem: Mrs Hammad has seen the doctor.

Dad: That's good.

Samira: She has had lunch. Mum has cooked some dinner for her, too.

Kareem: Mum has written a shopping list for her.

We're going to go to the market to buy her things.

Dad: You are both very kind children!

A doctor's day

Dr Madi works at King Abdullah University Hospital in Irbid. It's the biggest hospital in the north of Jordan. He tells us about a busy day at the hospital. "This morning I've talked to the night doctors and nurses about the new patients. Some of the patients arrived at night, so I haven't seen them before. It's really important to talk to the patients, too. I've talked to five patients this morning. I've written down all of the important information about their health problems in their notes. After I've talked to the patients, I sometimes do blood tests. The results of the tests help me to decide what medicine to give. I've done lots of other things this morning, too! I've talked to the patients' families and I've answered their questions. Some of the patients can go home. I've checked that the patients have help when they go home. I've written prescriptions so that they can get their medicine."

- 1) When do some of the patients arrive?
- 2) How many patients has the doctor talked to this morning?
- 3) What information has the doctor written down?
- 4) Why does the doctor sometimes do blood tests?
- 5) Why has the doctor written prescriptions?
- 6) Why is a doctor very important?
- 7) Where is King Abdullah University Hospital?

Dear Aunt Siham

How are you? I'm with Dad at the hospital in Karak. We have seen Grandpa Faisal. He's feeling much better. He has been in hospital for two days now He has had some breakfast this morning. He isn't very hungry, but he ate some bread and cheese. The doctors and nurses have been very kind. A nurse saw him this morning and she checked his notes. She has done some blood tests. She will give him an injection soon. The nurse talked to Grandpa, and she was kind to him Grandpa has taken his medicine and he has had a drink of water. He hasn't seen the doctor this morning. The doctor is visiting him after lunch. The chefs in the kitchen have cooked some lamb and rice for Grandpa's lunch.

I hope you are well

Best wishes!

Ibrahim
